Members of Pahokee Boy Scout Troop 28 spent the weekend on a camping trip to Fisheating Creek where they conducted a "survival" hike as a test to give their scoutmasters an indication as to how well they have learned basic Scouting skills in their studies and work during the past year.

The troop, accompanied by Scoutmasters Louis Mims, Ed Carver and Dean Cary, left Pahokee for their camping site Saturday at 1 p. m., their goal being to live entirely off the land for 24 hours. A large box of food was taken along in case the land had no food to offer.

At Fisheating Creek the group was divided into three foraging patrols, each including an adult leader. Pahokee Chamber Seeks New Office

The board of directors of the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce at the regular session Monday night was confronted with the problem of finding a new location for its chamber offices. Mrs. Gene Butler, owner of the Dixie Hotel building, who has been letting the chamber use the corner room of the building on the ground floor for its office on a temporary basis, has served notice to the chamber that she has need of this room for use as a beauty parlor to be operated by her granddaughter, Mrs. Peggy Lance. The directors, searching for another centrally located office space, have not yet succeeded in finding a suitable vacancy to which the C-C can be moved.

It was announced the chamber again this holiday season will sponsor, in cooperation with the Florida Power and Light Company and the City of Pahokee, Christmas lighting for the city streets in the downtown section.

It was voted to officially endorse the movement to reorganize Girl Scouting in the Glade area in affiliation with the Palm Beach Girl Scout Council.

County Solicitor Resigns His Job

County Solicitor T. Harold Williams has tendered his resignation to Gov. LeRoy Collins. On Nov. 9 Mr. Williams told the governor in a letter that he desired to return to the private practice of law. Fourteen months remain in Mr. Williams' term before its expiration. He was elected in 1948 for four years and again in 1952 for another term of four years.

U. S. Rep. Paul Rogers of West Palm Beach described some of the work of Congress to an audience of over 100 Lions and Rotarians at a joint dinner meeting of the Pahokee and Canal Point Lions Clubs and the Pahokee Rotary Club in the Community Hall at Canal Point Tuesday night.

Introduced by County Commissioner Paul Rardin, the speaker briefly reviewed the bills passed by Congress during the past session and some of the more important bills scheduled to come before Congress at the next session.

In his talk he told how flood appropriations bills are drafted and the maneuvering necessary to get them through Congress without having them cut to pieces.

He said he personally plans to introduce some bills at the next session to reduce unnecessary government expenses and assist in the balancing of the budget. Florida is one of four states to have representatives on both the tax writing and tax appropriations committees, according to Rep. Rogers.

The speaker also touched on the subjects of sugar quotas, foreign aid and the present phenomenal growth of South Florida. At the present time South Florida has surpassed Southern California in telephone installations, a good indication as to how fast this section of the State is growing, he said.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

The county commission this week lined up on the defensive side of a lawsuit brought by the Port of Palm Beach Commission to determine the validity of a legislative act calling for a referendum election on several port issues.

The suit was filed by the Port board, seeking a declaratory decree in circuit court on whether the act was valid and if the county commission should call the election. Voters would be asked to ballot on the questions should the port board be abolished; if two members should be added to the present port board or if the operation should remain in its present status.

County Attorney Harry Johnston said he had asked William J. Baso, Riviera Beach town attorney, to advise what action he deemed pertinent in defense of the suit. The town was one of the sponsors of the legislative act.

Johnston, who said the county commission had neither sponsored or recommended the legislation, had been named defendant in the Port's suit because the county board was required to call the election.

The attorney said the suit should be defended by the county and that the action should be taken to the State Supreme Court if necessary.

The commission voted to defend the action and also invited other interested parties to have their personal attorneys cooperate with the board in the litigation.

In other actions the board: Received bids on a number of pieces of road building equipment and county vehicle insurance and referred the bids to County Engineer Steve Middleton for tabulation and recommendation.

Heard that garbage and trash collectors working in rural areas are drafting an operating agreement which will be presented to the commission for consideration.

Received the bond of the Glades Production Company which built four miles of Okeelanta Road in the Glades.

Called for bids on approximately $3,000 worth of lumber for construction of a bridge over Merrill's Canal on North Military Trail. Cost of the bridge was estimated at $5,000.

Declared a bond of the Biltmore

Terrace developers sub division in default and ordered the bonding company to complete work on the sub division drainage system.

Authorized Attorney Johnston and County Aviation Director Frank Sakser to attend a meeting of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officials being held in Miami, November 21.

Granted the State Road Department permission to remove 1,000 yards of rock fill to improve South Olive Avenue north of the West Palm Beach Canal.

The County Commission this week renamed a section of Lake Worth West Road, redesignating the route Second Avenue North.

A resolution changing the designation was introduced by Commissioner Roy Michael who said the action was being taken to eliminate some confusion since in reality it was an extension of city street already, named Second Ave. North. The change effects one and 7 miles from Lake Worth city limits west to Military Trail.

The commission instructed Engineer Steve Middleton to change the road signs to the new designation and to also notify the Lake Worth postmaster of the change.

In another action, the commission redesignated a portion of State Road 703 as State Road A1A. The new strip of A1A runs between Riviera Beach and Juno Beach. The board in the same resolution renamed a section of the old Dixie Highway between Jupiter and Lake Park as State Road 707. The Jupiter-Lake Park strip was formerly known as A1A.

A request from Fronto Inc., for a traffic light on 45th St., was referred to the State Road Department for traffic survey and recommendation.

The board named Sheriff John Kirk as county chairman for State Safe Driving Day to be held December 1. The state-wide observance is being directed this year by Lt. Roger Collier, a former resident of Lantana. He has been designated by Gov. LeRoy Collins to conduct the State SR Day program.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Baxter returned recently to Pahokee from South Carolina where they spent the summer.

Introduced by the Rev. A. D. Houghlin, the speaker said this is no longer an academic question in our age of atomic weapons and incredible speed in transportation but one that affects everyone of us and the civilization in which we live. Modern man will have an affirmative answer to the question as soon as he attains the wisdom to live by the Golden Rule which will bring understanding, good will and peace to any and all on whom it is applied, neighbors or nations, according to Mr. Vann.

Cinematic Chatter

By Malcolm Millar

Hello everybody! No history of the motion picture industry could be written without devoting considerable space to Victor McLaglen. For this huge hulking Irishman has made an imprint in the Hollywood facade that can never be obliterated. Today, McLaglen is a bit heavier than he was twenty years ago. His hair, still brown, is a little thinner. There are deeper lines in his face, but aside from that he is the same Victor McLaglen whose performance in "The Informer" won him the academy Award as that year's best actor and who lifted the mirth quotient of the world when he was teamed with Edmund Lowe in "What Price Glory" and "The Cock-Eyed World." Although he was born in Tunbridge, England, he became an American citizen in 1953 and has been a loyal Californian ever since he arrived in Hollywood. The McLaglens have two small children—Andrew and Shelia. Andy, who is 6 feet 7½ inches tall, towers over his husky dad. He tried to be an actor but soon learned he would never be able to find a girl with heels high enough to play opposite him. He finally got into motion pictures as a cutter and assistant director and recently became a full fledged director. "You know," said Vic with a glance of pride at his towering son. "It takes a lot to fill this lad. See you at the movies—Mal."

Everyone is invited to come and join the fun and win a turkey.

Circle Program On American Indians

A program on "American Indians" was presented by the Gertrude Shirley Circle at the November meeting of the Pahokee First Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service held in the church auditorium Monday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Friend, president, presiding. Mrs. Clyde A. Canipe showed a film relating to the customs of American Indians.

It was voted that instead of circle members exchanging gifts at their annual Christmas parties each would bring a Christmas cash offering to be used for the purchase of toys for the nursery and kindergarten departments of the Church School, this change in the regular custom expressing to some degree the society's desire to put more of the Spirit of Christ into the Christmas observance.

Mrs. Duncan Padgett reported the WSCS collected $51 for missions in the field during its recent week of prayer observance. Mrs. Dorsey Pugh reported on the work and excellent attendance of the Happy Helpers group of children at weekly meetings. The Mabel Simonson Circle was named hostess group for the WSCS general meeting in December and the Margery Lair Circle was appointed in charge of arrangements for church flowers the same month. It was announced these two circles will meet jointly at the home of Mrs. Duncan Padgett Nov. 21 when a study of the mission book on "Faith" will be completed. On the same day the Mary Martha Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Marshall Lair and the Gertrude Shirley Circle, at the home of Mrs. Broughton Watkins.

Mrs. F. S. Parrish had on display at the meeting Christmas greeting cards which she is selling as a fund raising project for the Gertrude Shirley Circle, proceeds to be used to purchase floor covering for a classroom at the Church School.

Indians Scalped Devils With 33-19

The Pahokee Blue Devils, idle this week with an open date, had their hopes for another Suncoast Conference crown-blighted Friday night by the Vero Beach Indians who out scored them 33 to 19.

The game started out as a scoring spree with the Blue Devils running up 19 points and the Indians 13 points in the first period. That was all the scoring the Pahokee lads did during the game, according to the referee, but the Indians went on to add a touchdown each in the second, third and fourth periods and there wasn't much the Blue Devils could do to slow up the powerful driving force of Vero's fullback, Jumbo Jim Young.

The Blue Devils displayed some beautiful passing work in the first period which resulted in two touchdowns. The first came early in the period when Halfback Turbeville passed a long one from the Pahokee 43 connecting with End Chat Clark at the Vero 27 behind the Indians' pass defenders and Clark raced down a clear field the rest of the way. Later in the quarter Turbeville passed from his own 35 to the Vero 30 where Clark again caught it behind Vero's defenders and went all the way. The other Blue Devil Score in the first quarter was made by Tackle Ronnie Berry who grabbed a fumble by Vero's Quarterback Eddie Chambers at the Pahokee 25 before the ball was dead and raced 75 yards down the middle of the field for the TD. Quarterback Buddy Parker passed to Clark for Pahokee's lone extra point.

Announcement of the flower arrangement course was made at a meeting of the executive board of the Pahokee-Canal Point Garden Club at the home of Mrs. A. R. Chastain in Canal Point Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Lloyd Hundley, president, presiding.

Mrs. E. W. Brandes, chairman of the Garden Club Circle, announced the silver tea and sale which the circle was to conduct at her home in Canal Point Thursday. She also reported her circle has started a rose garden project.

Mrs. A. R. Chastain reported the Gardena Circle is planning a series of invitational luncheons to be held during the coming season.

The club secretary was instructed to write a letter to the State Road Department in protest against the uprooting and destruction by SRD workmen of the hibiscus shrubbery which the garden club planted along the side of the road in front of the Port Mayaca Cemetery as part of the club's beautification program for the cemetery.

The names of four new applicants for club membership, submitted by the Gardena Circle, were accepted by the Board.

more workers are presently covered. The extended coverage resulted from Federal changes which also are effective under Florida law.

All employers who are not now covered under the U. C. laws are required to complete and submit status reports even if they have fewer than four workers, Scott pointed out. Forms have been mailed to employers and Scott has them for those not receiving the form in the mail. Deputy Scott said that employers should bring their 1955 pay roll records with them as they are necessary in filling out the forms.

Some types of employment are exempt from the coverage, such as agricultural workers, domestic or household servants, and insurance agents or solicitors and real estate salesmen or agents whose pay is solely by commissions.

The three per cent charge is made up of 2.7 per cent payable to the state, and three tenths of one per cent (0.3) to the Federal Government. State payment is at the end of each quarter, Federal once a year. Florida provides an experience rating plan by which employers can get reduced rates after six quarters of contributions. The reduction, which is based on their employing experience, could take their rates down to as low as 0.0 per cent. Without the Florida Unemployment Compensation Act, the Federal Government, which does not provide experience rating, would receive the full three per cent.

Belle Glade Bible Class Hears Rardin

Members of the Belle Glade Methodist Bible Class heard County Commission Vice Chairman Paul Rardin Sunday morning in a short address in which the commissioner explained to the group the intricate workings of zoning as it affects liquor sales. Within the past few months Commissioner Rardin and the county board zoned two areas against the sale of alcoholic beverages in the Belle Glade area. In one instance a petition was signed by more than 200 citizens and taxpayers asking for the zoning.

Jerry Schultz, county zoning director, was another speaker on the program and pointed out to the group the many advantages of a new law, passed in the 1955 legislature, which will give the county board power and authority to zone the entire county outside of municipalities.
